The following terms and conditions pertain to your attendance and participation in events, online courses, subscriptions, membership, or any other learning opportunity ("Tabor Rotation") which is conducted by Glenna Tabor Resources, LLC, (the "Company"). By registering or participating in the Tabor Rotation TO GO Program, you (the "Registrant" and/or the "Student") signify your acceptance of and obligation to these terms and conditions. If you have objections to the following Terms and Conditions, you should not register for or attend the Program.

Registrant and/or student hereby understands that the tools, processes, strategies, materials, and information presented in Tabor Rotation are confidential, copyrighted, and proprietary to the Company and agrees not to record, duplicate, distribute, share, train, or teach to others outside of your assigned K-12 classes, from the Program materials in any manner whatsoever without the prior express written permission of the Company. Presenting the Tabor Rotation TO GO Course in any manner other than streaming via computer to one licensed, paid student or registrant is a violation of this copyright and agreement. Any unauthorized use or distribution of these proprietary concepts, materials, and intellectual property by you or your representatives is prohibited and the Company will pursue legal action and full damages if these terms are violated in order to protect its rights.

The Tabor Rotation TO GO course may contain references or links to materials from third-parties. Reference to any third-party products, services, processes or other information, by trade name, trademark, manufacturer, and supplier or otherwise does not constitute or imply endorsement, sponsorship or recommendation thereof, or any affiliation with us. We are not responsible for examining or evaluating the content or accuracy and we do not warrant and will not have any liability or responsibility for any third-party materials or websites, or for any other materials, products, or services of third-parties. I understand that the Company has made every effort to ensure that the information provided accurately represents this training program. However, there is no guarantee that classroom or standardized testing results for students in your classroom or school will equal or exceed those results highlighted in the Tabor Rotation TO GO course materials. Nothing on our web sites, in our literature or in this seminar/program is a promise or guarantee of future results. Your level of success will be determined by many factors that may include: knowledge, time, study, and degree of implementation, ability and the policies of your school and or district. Because these factors differ according to individuals, teachers and schools, we cannot guarantee your results will match the historical average results of other schools who have implemented the Tabor Rotation framework. Any statements describing a future condition or outcome outlined on our sites or in our seminars/programs are simply our expectations or forecasts for future potential, and thus are not guarantees or promises for actual performance.

As stated on the websites and marketing materials, the Company guarantees that Student/Course Attendee will be satisfied with the Program after completing the course. Satisfaction is defined as the Student/Attendee's belief that the Company is delivering on what was promised in promoting the Program. If Students are not satisfied within 30 days of the course starting and they notify the Company representatives via email or telephone, with a description of why the course does not deliver on what was offered and promised, the Company will refund the original tuition to the original payee (Student and/or Registrant) for the course.

Note: A guarantee represents a promise about the quality of services delivered; if a Student or Registrant never experienced the services (i.e. does not complete the majority of the course), the guarantee obviously does not apply. Further, the guarantee cannot be substituted for or confused with the Cancellation Policy.
